AS TO THIRD PARTIES.

From a practical viewpoint the third party, or the party which undertakes seriously to dispute the leadership or the privilege of control with the conventional two recognized "regular" parties in the United States, has never been successful. That is, it has never won in a presidential campaign. In 1856, when the Whig party was abandoned and the republican party made its first attempt to carry a national election, it failed, although John C. Fremont, its standard bearer, stood higher in the poll, as against the democratic mont, its standard bearer, stood higher in the poll, as against the democratic candidate, James Buchanan, than did Millard Fillmore, who headed the American ticket. Before the republican party came into being, when the Whigs and the democrats shared control with more or less balance, there was nearly always a third party in the field, called "Liberal," as in Polk's time; "Free Soil," as in Taylor's, or "Free Democrat," as in Pierce's. In the first Lincoln campaign, when the republican party had won standing as "regular" organization, there were two democratic tickets, one headed by Douglas, the other by Breckinridge, and a fourth ticket called "Union," headed by Bell.

In Lincoln's second campaign the issue was so clearly defined that the contest was narrowed down to two parties, republican and democratic. Only two parties engaged in Grant's first campaign, but in his second there were no less than eight distinct tickets in the field, in large measure the result of differences in both of the regular parties growing out of reconstruction and readjustment following the civil war. Grant headed the republican ticket, Charles O'Connor the regular democratic ticket. Three irregular democratic tickets were headed respectively by Thomas A. Hendricks, B. Gratz Brown and Charles J. Jenkins. David Davis headed an independent and James Black a temperance ticket, and finally, Horace Greeley headed a liberal republican ticket. The votes polled for Hendricks, Brown, Jenkins, Davis and Black were negligible in number; the "liberal republican" was the real third party of this remarkable campaign. Notwithstanding the contention of the period, the confusion of issues, and the bitterness with which republican policies were assailed by all the other parties, Grant was elected by increased popular and electoral votes.

When Colonel Bryan received the democratic nomination for president in 1896 it caused a split in the democratic party on account of the free silver plank which Bryan and his followers forced into the party platform and as a result Palmer and Buckner, two democratic leaders, were nominated by party that was opposed to free silver.

In 1912, as most people will vividly recollect, Mr. Taft was nominated by the republican convention, although there was a great popular demand for Roosevelt. The rules of the convention, under which Mr. Roosevelt had been nominated twice before and which he had made no effort to change while he was in power, worked against him in 1912 as they had worked against many other good men in times gone by. The rules were wrong, there is no doubt of that. Mr. Roosevelt wanted the nomination and the disappointment drove him to desperate measures. He formed a third party and succeeded in dividing the opposition to the democratic and Mr. Wilson was elected. The progressive party is a memory now and the progressive convention in Chicago will be but a form. The republican party is united, stronger than ever before, and with the nomination of a strong leader, a progressive-republican, the party will go back into power with a clean sweep.

PREPAREDNESS IN 1812.

The practical value of military training of a sort was strikingly illustrated in one incident of our war of 1812. There is not much for the American to be proud of in that war, the record for the most part being a humiliating one. The single redeeming feature was the battle of New Orleans which made the fame of Andrew Jackson and caused him to be elected president. The victory at New Orleans was due to the fact that the Americans engaged there were chiefly frontiersmen who had learned to shoot straight and with deadly effect through the daily practice made necessary during the previous years by the circumstances of their lives on the border or the lands of hostile Indians. The Americans against whose entrenchments the British advanced near New Orleans were trained sharpshooters and their rifle fire was of near. In the engagement the British lost 700 killed, 1,400 wounded and 1,500 made prisoners, the killed including two prominent British generals and the wounded another, while the American loss was only seven killed and thirteen wounded.

On our southwestern frontier January 8, 1815, the fortune of war turned on the training of the Americans in the matter of expert rifle fire. It was not military training in the modern sense, yet it changed the course of history on this continent. The life which made such training necessary has long passed away, and the raw American volunteers of our time would not be found similarly prepared. That a certain amount of military training should be provided for a sufficient number of young Americans, as proposed in the bills before congress, admits of no question.

Kingdom-Bend Aid

Mrs. Harvey Stevens entertained on Wednesday the Kingdom-Bend Aid Society most pleasantly at her home on Franklin Grove road. Twenty-five members and guests spent the evening, the work having been furnished by the hostess. To add to the pleasures of the busy workers Mrs. Stevens had decorated her home with great clusters of purple lilacs and upon the table, from which the scramble luncheon was served, rested a bowl of beautiful tulips, a much appreciated gift from one of the members. Comforter knitting and the making of other articles was laid aside in the afternoon for a short business session and a program. A number much enjoyed was the dialogue given by four little girls, Erma Stevens, Dorothy Hoover, Marie Miller, and L. Jorie Greer, the topic, "June."

Among the guests were: Miss Ada Atkinson, Mitchell, S. D., who is visiting at the Joseph Atkinson home, east of Dixon; Mrs. John Trippeer, Mrs. Frank Stevens, and Mrs. Gus Boese and daughter Cecile of Dixon; Miss Esther Young of St. James; and a number of other ladies from the Franklin Grove road vicinity.

Mrs. George McWetly will entertain the society at her home in the King lorn at the next meeting.

ILLINOIS GOES INTO FISH RAISING HEAVILY

Northern Part of State Abounds in Favorable Lakes.

prepared by the Illinois fish and game commission, May 19.—Data just prepared by the Illinois fish and game commission shows that a great supply of rainbow trout, ten months old, has been placed in a spring brook near McHenry, in Lake county. The fish are of the "fingerling" size and were developed at the hatchery to such a size that they will be able to take care of themselves in the open waters.

During the coming season the fish commission expect to plant 100,000 additional brook and rainbow trout, 1,000,000 black bass and 30,000,000 pike-perch (walleyed pike) in the streams and lakes of Lake and McHenry counties.

The eggs from which many of the brook trout will be hatched have been received from Colorado, and the fry will be placed only in clear water streams such as are found near Elgin, Harvard, McHenry and Glen Ellyn.

The fish commission also has built a two-acre black bass rearing pond, which is said to be the only pond of its kind in America. Artificial hatching of bass has not proved successful in fish hatcheries.

Hicks-Lehman Wedding

The wedding of Margaret S., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lehman of North Dixon, and Henry W. Hicks, the son of Mrs. W. W. Hicks of Lee Center, was solemnized Thursday, P. M., at 3 o'clock at the Brethren church in this city. A former pastor, Rev. Olin M. Shaw of Des Moines, read the service assisted by the present pastor, Rev. J. J. Johnson. Two hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was made indescribably beautiful by the church decorations and the beautiful gowns of the wedding party.

White and lavender lilacs held in place by largebows of satin ribbon, had as a background feathery ferns and stately palms, making the altar a poem of lavender and white beauty, offset by the dark green of the foliage.

White down tulle draped to Georgeanne crepe formed the wedding gown. The conventional veil was worn by the bride, who carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilacs. The two bridesmaids in the party, Miss Alice Lehman, sister of the bride, and Miss Edith Trostle of Franklin Grove, a dress of white light pink and blue crepe, wearing gowns, respectively. Each bridesmaid carried a great bunch of the lavender and white blossoms of the lilac. Little Lucille Morris, cousin of the bride, and Kathryn Lehman, the bride's little sister, acting as ribbon bearers, opening up the white pathway for the procession, as Miss Mary Heckman of Polo sang, "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin." Rev. J. J. Johnson offered the benediction after the ceremony, and as the party left the church, Miss Heckman sang, "Ah Joy Be Thine."

A reception at the home of the bride's parents on E. Chamberlain street followed the ceremony, the bride and groom receiving the seventy-five guests being entertained. A four-course dinner was served, friends of the bride serving. These were: Misses Lillian Morris, Ruby Grey, Elizabeth Barge, Maud Leake, Edna Zarger, Ruth Berry, the latter of Lee Center; Lolla Moats and Alice Hicks. The residence was also decorated in the lavender and white lilacs with roses, toons and knots of ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks left Thursday evening following the reception on an extensive wedding trip throughout the East. They will visit at the ancestral home of Mr. Hicks on Long Island, and will also visit Washington, Philadelphia, and New York City, and will sojourn for a while in Maryland and Pennsylvania with relatives of Mrs. Hicks. Upon their return, July 1st, they will be at home to their many friends at the Assembly Park cottage, which the groom recently purchased and has beautifully fitted out for his bride.

Mrs. Hicks is one of Dixon's finest young women, a graduate of the North Dixon high school of the class of 1913, and a student at Mr. Morris college, which Mr. Hicks also attended. Mr. Hicks also has been a student in Chicago and the Dixon college, and has spent the past few years teaching. He is an excellent young man of moral worth.

Among the guests from out of town who attended the wedding were: Mrs. W. W. Hicks and sons of Lee Center; Mrs. Clara Hicks and family of Sublette; Miss Jennie Hicks of Elburn, Ill.; Miss Donna Hinkel of Des Moines, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Blocher, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lehman and family; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Group, Rev. and Mrs. O. D. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Trostle, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fissel, all of Franklin Grove; Miss Taylor of Mr. Morris; Miss Edith Trostle, Miss Mary Heckman, LeRoy Lehman, students of Mr. Morris college; Miss Ruth Barry and Miss Ruby Gray, of Lee Center; Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Reed of the Kingdom; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams of Ambler, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Sublette.

Better than our estimate of two years ago.

Conservative Business Men Express Their Confidence

In an effort to get an expression from prominent business men on the outlook and conditions in Dixon, only the ones quoted below have been seen in time to report in this issue. Others will be published as obtained.

"We need more men and women, as well as girls, at the present time in our factory. An increase in the capacity of our plant is contemplated, and in fact is now under way. For many months we have operated day and night and will continue to do so. The future of Dixon is at present more promising than ever before."

H. G. REYNOLDS,
President Reynolds Wire Co.

"Since starting our factory here about two years ago we have experienced much difficulty in securing sufficient help, due to a great shortage of houses in Dixon. A move to meet the requirements deserves encouragement."

E. H. ENGLISH,
Supt. Brown Shoe Co.

THE STATE INSTITUTION

Has developed to an extent that its importance is better appreciated. A great state improvement of this, or any similar character can hardly be said to be completed at any time. It has more of a perpetual growth and stands alone, sufficient to insure permanent growth and stability to a city the size of Dixon.

Three strong banks and building and loan association, together with abundant private capital in Dixon afford ample accommodations to any and all who wish to build and who have first made a start to justify their confidence and extension of credit. The first thing to do is to buy a lot.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

organization depends upon said workers being held intact.

Your orators further show that in the solicitation of subscribers for stock, the said Reynolds assured those purchasing the company's stock would be fully protected in their investment, that it would be worth one hundred cents on the dollar in all times; that the said Reynolds recently purchased one five-hundred-dollar block of said stock, owned by one A. W. Rosecrans, for the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), through the instrumentality of one A. G. Harris.

Your orators further show that subsequent to the annual meeting of stockholders, held on May 2nd, 1916, he said Reynolds proceeded to monopolize and control the defendant company by sending into the office of the company one of his sons-in-law, in the guise of a watchman; that he caused to be sent into said office a bookkeeper employed in his private enterprise, who was totally unfamiliar with the matter of newspaper accounting; that the activity of these foreign agents in the affairs of the company seriously undermined the morale of the working force by reason of their hectoring and arbitrary attitude.

Your orators further show that the election as Directors of John E. Erwin and H. L. Fordham of the said company was against the wishes of the said Erwin and Fordham and that they have since filed notice with the said Reynolds of their desire not to serve as Directors on said Board.

Your orators charge upon information and belief that the said Reynolds, together with his sons-in-law, have conspired to manipulate the corporate affairs of the defendant company, to the end that your orators will be compelled to sell out to the said Reynolds their stock at a substantial loss to them and each of them.

Your orators charge that the defendant company is now conducting its business as a loss, and that it is absolutely necessary for the preservation of the good will and assets of said company that a Receiver be appointed to take charge of the same.

FORASMUCH, THEREFORE, as your orators are without remedy in the premises except in a Court of Equity, your orators pray:

1. That a Receiver be appointed according to the course of practice of this Court and with usual powers of receivers in like cases, to take charge of and hold the property, assets and effects of the defendant company, and to continue the business of said company, and for such other order as shall be just and lawful.

2. That the said defendant company, Leader Publishing company, party defendant hereto, may be required to make full and direct answer to the same, but not under oath, the answer under oath being hereby expressly waived.

3. That the Writ of Summons in Chancery, directed to the Sheriff of the county aforesaid, be issued, commanding him that he summon the defendant, Leader Publishing Company, to appear before this Court on the first day of the next September Term thereof, to be held at the Court House in Dixon, County and State aforesaid, then and there to answer this petition, and that your orators may have such other and further relief in the premises as equity may require and to the Court shall seem meet.

A Pleasant Affair

Franklin Grove Reporter: Mrs. C. D. Hussey entertained Saturday afternoon and evening at a charming affair in the form of a reception and home coming for Misses Mary and Harriet Thomas of Newport, R. I.

Guests to the number of forty, including Mrs. Wm. Graves and Miss Williamson of Dixon, sat down to a most sumptuous four-course dinner, after which all were ushered into the parlors, where Miss Harriet Thomas, who is secretary of the Woman's Civic Federation of Newport, R. I., told of the wonderful work they are able to accomplish for the betterment of the city and the important part Newport furnished to the history of the United States; of the old, old Colonial home purchased by the federation, in which Washington with his aides planned important laws for the United States, which laws we are now enjoying.

Miss Hussey has an elegant home and she, with her daughter, Miss Mary, makes this a home of genuine hospitality.

THAT BACKACHE SPELLS DANGER

Action Today May Save Dixon People Future Misery

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as a warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We overdo too much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some urinary disorder or an occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected. Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people in the United States every year promptly treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest the most widely used, best recommended Kidney Pills. Forty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Dixon case:

Mrs. J. Carley, 511 Spruce street Dixon, says: "My back was so sore that I couldn't wait erect and morning it was hard for me to get out of bed. Various medicines didn't benefit me and when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, I got some at Leake Bros. Co's Drug store. After taking two boxes, my back was strengthened and I felt better."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Carley had. Foster-McBurn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PRINCESS THEATRE.
Tonight the Princess theatre will show a Mutual Master picture de luxe entitled "The Hidden Law" with Margaret Gibson and Wm. Clifford in the leading roles, assisted by the famous Bostock animals. The story is one of love and devotion, taken in the far west, in which an Indian girl's love for a white settler in the principal theme, the stage settings and scenic effects are beautiful and add to the picture greatly. Tomorrow night a series of high class photoplays will be shown, including a three reel Thanhouser feature entitled "What Doris Did," featuring Doris Grey, one of the most beautiful girls on the screen today. This is a thrilling detective plot. Two other excellent comedies will be shown.

day with a luncheon, honoring the

Inter Nos Picnic

The members of the Inter Nos Club spent yesterday in a delightful picnic party staged at the cosy As-

Pitcher, who so kindly offered it for the occasion. A scramble dinner and supper, also, were enjoyed. The Baptist Missionary

The Baptist Missionary Department of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Baptist church met in regular session Thursday afternoon with Mrs.
Allen Smith of E. Everett street.
The topic under discussion was "The Baptist Fleet." By this is meant the three gospel boats that do work along the coasts of Oregon, California and in Puget Sound. Misses Anna Todd, Mary Craig, Ruth Chiverton and Mrs. Harry Chiverton spoke very interestingly upon the topic.
A vocal duet was rendered by Miss
Julie Miller and Miss Florence
Stackpole and a vocal solo by Miss Frank Ballou as a very enjoyable part of the program. Mrs. John Winton assisted Miss Smith in the duties of hostess, aiding in serving very enjoyable refreshments and in
